Daily Bulletin

Published in English and French,
But established for the benefit of all.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 10, 1891.

The BULLETIN will not be issued tomorrow, owing to the usual holiday being granted the "boys" of the office in honor of Kamehameha Day.

The Anglican Church Chronicle for June has been received. Notice has heretofore been delayed owing to want of space. The Chronicle, as usual, is filled with interesting church news and editorial comments. The Chronicle, however, takes its religious contemporary, the Friend, to task upon several doctrinal points, but happily rounds its periods with a Christian charity which should be often imitated.

The Daily Alta California suspended publication on June 2d. The Alta has been established over forty years, and, until a few years ago, represented the commercial interests of San Francisco almost to the exclusion of other papers. Since the death of Fred McCredish, several years ago, the Alta began to languish. The Hon. John P. Irish was placed in the editorial chair to carry that veteran Democratic Journal to further triumphs, but even the fine ability and political influence of Mr. Irish failed to compete with the Daily Examiner, which, about that time, took the lead as the Democratic organ of California. The Alta has for many years been noted on the Pacific Coast as a "clean newspaper," perhaps this had something to do with its present failure.

A LIGHT BREEZE.

We have read in several of the testimonials sent us from the manufacturers that there have been instances where the Aeromotor has worked when there was not sufficient wind to extinguish the flame from a candle. We published one of these testimonials some time ago but we were doubtful of the strict truth of the assertion; we thought it was a bit too strong but then we had confidence in the manufacturers and were willing to pin our faith to their good judgment in sending us what the public here could not refute. We're glad we did it because the statement has been verified right on the outskirts of Honolulu. Any one who has seen two growing knows that it must be irrigated, and every one here knows of the vast taro-patches out Palama way. The most extensive grower of the national vegetable here is W. L. Wilcox, who realizing the importance of having a large supply of water with which to irrigate his patches, has recently erected a 12th Aeromotor, to take the place of an antique affair he has had and which would not jump except in a still breeze. We went out to see it the other day and found it pumping water when there seemed to be absolutely no wind, not enough in fact to extinguish the light of a match, and it filled three tanks with a capacity of 5000 gallons in very short order. Disinterested parties saw this as well as ourselves.

Mr. Wilcox will tell you about it. The Hawaiian Hardware Co., Sole Agents, Fort street, opposite Spruce's Block.
